

Experience

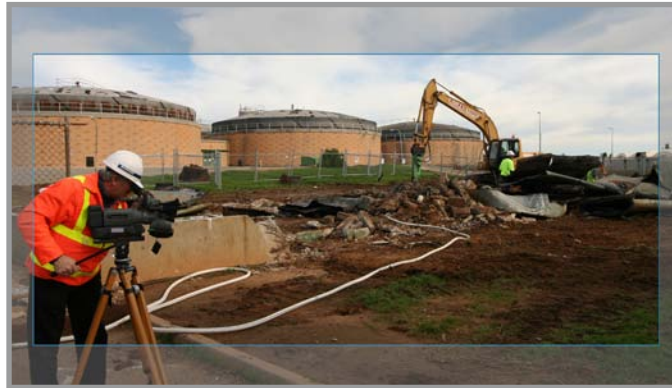

Our work during the past 34 years has provided opportunities to produce a range of media for clients in a diverse category of industries and businesses.

This direct experience has given us the knowledge and understanding of many industrial and commercial operations, and therefore we are able to contribute practically in the development of your marketing and communication plans.

We have specialised in supporting small to medium sized businesses in delivering marketing consultation and strategic communication initiatives across a wide range of industries.

Whilst our services cover a range of practices, we have created a network of experienced service providers, who like us, have considerable knowledge in particular service fields.

This advantage will allow us to provide direct cost-effective marketing services without the need of contracting various service businesses. Ultimately, a single approach tends to align strategic plans and directions with media needs.

Safety Equipment

We own and maintain full sets of safety equipment, body harness, equipment safety wires and restricted movement site cones required for OHS&W on all industrial and construction locations.
